Helping Migrant Children
Reading Together

Rise Up and Read launches a permanent library: Guadalajara, Mexico

The Refugio provides lifesaving support for families on the migration trail including short stay housing, meals and access to medical and legal counsel. Rise Up and Read established a permanent library within the Refugio with books generously donated by Star Bright books and Jumping Cow press. The library contains children's books in Spanish, French and Creole. Additionally, the RUaR reading prescription and thought questions are displayed on the wall making it a cozy and comfortable place for children and families to read together.
